JUNIORS PAVE THE WAY FOR EUROPE TOUR

An Under-18 Soccer carnival will be held in Sydney in the first week in October.

This is the first step in selection of an under-18 junior side to tour Europe early in 1964.

Mr Don Joiner, secretary of the Junior Federation, said yesterday that every State would compete.

He said that while the carnival was in progress, an Australia-wide Junior Soccer body would probably be formed to co-ordinate arrangements for the overseas tour.

Mr Joiner said this was another step forward in Junior Soccer progress.

And he predicted that Victoria could win the carnival, because they have repeatedly defeated NSW in recent years.

Where are the juniors?

— asks ALBERT MERRILLS

What is happening to Junior Soccer this season? A number of teams have already withdrawn and have upset the fixtures.

This is most disappointing after our successful season last year, and the bright hopes entertained a few weeks ago with a record number of teams entered.

Here at Ringwood these days is veteran player Ollie Norris.

Last Saturday for Wilhelmina he kicked three of their four goals against Lions at Jubilee Park — there's one of them on its way, above.

Ollie is the idol of the juniors, too. He's their coach and so far this season his boys are tops.

They've lost only one game this season — when the under-16 side loaned players to the under-18 side and were weakened.

Wilhelmina certainly celebrated their 10th birthday in style during the weekend.

All their six teams won and scored a total of 43 goals in their games.

The Under-12's won 21-0; Under-14's 2-1; Under-16's 6-2; Under-18's 4-2; Reserves 6-2 and Firsts 4-2. What a record!

Here's one club who are keeping the round ball rolling.

Alexander v Fiorentina — what a battle!

By GEOFF DOBB

Fiorentina are confident they can beat Alexander in the First North clash of the year at Fairfield on Saturday.

COBURG GOALIE ON MEND

Coburg's goalie David Brown, 25, is slowly recovering in Royal Melbourne Hospital from a kidney operation following Saturday's game against Fiorentina.

Brown was injured when he accidentally collided with Fiorentina's Cerni.

Meanwhile, Fiorentina players and committee have collected £20 to help cover David's expenses. Coburg have started a fund, too.

But Alexander, with their strong defence, led by new Greek boy Arthur Andreadis, will be tough nuts to crack.

Both are candidates for promotion into State League ranks next year.

Fiorentina pin their hopes on Scotsman Ian Gow at centre-forward. Another Scot, Bob Campbell, an inside-forward, will be a man for Alexander to watch.

Sam Cappelletti has scored many goals for Fiorentina this year, and he will be a danger.

Fiorentina have based their training this year on physical fitness rather than ball work.

Alexander have one of the strongest defences in Metropolitan. Andreadis will get strong support from Drearis, Soliri, Dinis and goalie Slade.

But whoever wins, one thing is for sure — it will be a great match.

NSW STARS IN STATE BAN

Two of Sydney's best-known Soccer players, Leo Baumgartner and Karl Jarros, have been banned from ever playing for NSW again.

This follows their repeated failure to turn up for State Squad training.

By MORRIE BUCKNER

J.U.S.T. should hold its slender lead at the top of the State League ladder after Saturday's vital clash with Juventus at Olympic Park.

This is the first of three tough matches for J.U.S.T.

In the following weeks they meet Polonia and a rejuvenated South Melbourne-Hellas.

An 0-1 defeat by Melbourne, followed by last week's 1-1 draw with Croatia, hardly qualifies Juventus for the distinction of being the team most likely to inflict J.U.S.T.'s first defeat of the season.

But J.U.S.T. has conceded two draws in the six rounds played — to Croatia and Slavia — and another draw may not be out of the question.

That's because J.U.S.T. finds it hard to score against an efficient and determined defence, and with Patterson, Frangione and Hartley across the penalty area and Beurcht in goal, the Zebras HAVE that sort of defence.

Some of the goals that Juventus does concede seem to come from misunderstandings between Frangione and Beurcht. Why this is so is something of a mystery. But Juventus has yielded only seven goals in six rounds, and that's not a bad effort.

TRICKY

The Zebras' attack will be brightened by the inclusion of the tricky Barbazza, who was absent last week because of his brother's wedding.

If Barbazza, Millar, Accunzo and Kenny can work up a "clicking" combination, J.U.S.T. defenders Rice, Rasic and Grego will have to be very alert to protect goalie Fode and the net.

J.U.S.T.'s inside-right Marinovic has never been in better form, and, with Mladenovic and Jagodic on his left and Micic behind him, Juventus will find Emilio a very "hot potato" to handle.

Jagodic may be slow, but he can be dangerous with both his head and his boots if left unmarked.

Vollman made an impressive reappearance last week; van der Poel is a useful forward, but J.U.S.T. is sadly missing the injured Njegus on the left wing.

This will be a close one, with J.U.S.T. slightly favored to get both points.

MORRIE RESIGNS

It is with much regret that we announce the retirement of our leading staff writer Mr Morrie Buckner.

Owing to pressure of business and ill-health, Morrie has resigned as a member of our editorial staff.

In the many years he has been associated with Soccer he has served the official publication well. He was for a time its Editor and did much of the spadework in creating a Soccer publication in Victoria.

His column "In Touch" has received widespread recognition for its forthrightness and journalistic value.

Soccer will miss you, Morrie.

HERE'S A TIP

VERDICT

By FRED
VILLIERS

When the overseas pools adopt Australian results for their coupons on May 25, take this tip from me:

CROATIA IS A CERTAINTY FOR THE TREBLE CHANCE.

On Saturday they gained their fourth League point with their fourth draw of the season by holding Juventus 1-1 at Olympic Park.

Forecasting draws is a tough proposition at the best of times, but Croatia are draw specialists.

That's why I say mark them down for the coupons later this month.

CONGRATULATIONS to J.U.S.T. on their unbeaten record and also to inside-right Marinovic on his fine game last week.

NEWCOMER McCorquodale, who plays on the left-wing for Slovia, did a great job for his team against George Cross. Let's have more imports like him.

WHO said Hellas has had it? By their win on Saturday their supporters can look forward to a rapid rise from last year's League champions.

JIM FERNIE proved he was 100% fit again when he won himself some valuable Globe votes for his performance for Croatia at the Park.

OLLIE NORRIS certainly showed Wilhelmina how to celebrate their 10th birthday. He banged in three of their four goals against Lions on Sunday.

IT'S good to see the underdogs winning! Especially when they beat champions. This was the case with Melbourne at Olympic Park on Sunday. A 2-1 win over Polonia is good value for anybody's money. Congratulations to Melbourne newcomer Elliot for his smart and intelligent play. Keep your eye on this club. They're team-building—and that means real business for their opponents this year!

RE those odds Truth published recently. Herald writer Bill Fleming tells me he'll take the lot. "I couldn't lose," he says.

I WONDER who is leading the Argus Medal voting? We all know The Globe and Gilbeys Cup leaders, but with the Argus set-up it's a shock announcement at the end of the season. Each week referees make their votes, put them in sealed envelopes, and they're opened after the last State League game is played.

FOOTNOTE: Aussie Rules is certainly getting too big—in fact, too big for its boots. Last week two club secretaries demanded 15 guineas from a leading newspaper who wanted to publish their team pictures!

President says thanks to 10-year-old club

A tribute to the good work Wilhelmina has done for Soccer was made on Friday night by Mr Harry J. Dockerty, president of the Victorian Soccer Federation.

He was speaking at the club's 10th anniversary ball at Hawthorn Town Hall.

"It is indeed a pleasure to be with a club that has done so much for Soccer," he said.

"I congratulate your leader, Mr John van Hoboken, for your wonderful record."

"You have done well to establish yourselves in such a wonderful home at Jubilee Park, Ringwood."

"Your ground is one of the best in Australia, and you have every reason to feel proud of your achievement."

"I hope that in the next 10 years you will progress as you have during the past 10."

"You came here to help lift the game to what it is today.

"If only we can get a few more clubs with your energy Soccer would be on a very high level in this country," he added.

More than 400 Soccer enthusiasts saw Wilhelmina captain Dick Stobbe present a bouquet to Mrs van Hoboken.

Mr van Hoboken received a gift of a barometer from the players.

Among the Federation guests present were: Mr Theo Marmaras, chairman; Mr John Barclay, deputy chairman; Mr Lou De Bono, vice-president; Mr Tony Kovach, deputy State League chairman; Mr Norm Injured? - no, he's acting!

Consistently we see players fall to the ground after being beaten in a perfectly legitimate tackle or after being struck by the ball.

This we can all appreciate, and our sympathies go to the unfortunate ones.

However, the two acts which too often follow are a blot on the game and should be stamped out.

I refer here to the feigning of an injury which does not exist or is of a very minor nature, and the subsequent treatment of wet sponge and gentle rubbing while players, officials and thousands of spectators just wait.

The law allows the referee to stop the game only if he considers a player is SERIOUSLY INJURED. Otherwise he must wait for a break in the play before inspecting the player and deciding a course of action.

In either case the referee must not allow the injured player to be treated on the field if he can be moved to the sidelines for treatment.

The intention of the law is that the game should be held up only in the case of a serious injury, and not at the discretion of the players themselves.

Players often "act" to gain time to consolidate, or to prevent their team being at a temporary disadvantage by their absence.

ANSWER TO LAST WEEK'S QUESTION: The nine offences, which may be listed under three groups, are:

HANDS: Handling the ball; holding; pushing; striking.

FEET: Kicking; tripping; jumping at opponent.

CHARGING: Charging in violent or dangerous manner; charging from behind (unless obstructed).

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION: What is meant by (1) Direct Free Kick, and (2) Indirect Free Kick, and how does the referee signal which one applies?

Next week's article deals with: "Offside."

HELLAS HAVE THE FORWARDS TO CAGE THOSE LIONS

By MORRIE BUCKNER

South Melbourne Hellas has the front-line strength to pierce the Lions' uncertain defence when they meet at Olympic Park on Sunday.

Lions have concentrated fairly successfully on improving their firepower. Only three teams in the State League — J.U.S.T., Polonia and Hakoah — have scored more goals than the Lions.

And the two inside forwards, Mike de Bruyckere and Karl Angstenberger, can be relied upon to go on producing goals.

But the Lions lose their games at the other end, where their defence has yielded 17 goals in six rounds — the second largest "goals against" tally in the league.

Unless the Lions can do something about their back-line — and quickly — they will reach the point of no return in the next few rounds.

We are all familiar with the record and capabilities of goalie Dieter Voigt and it's hard to believe that the fault lies there. But apparently there is some degree of lack of understanding between Voigt and his screen of defenders.

This seems to be Richmond's trouble, too, and last week Hellas, even without Margarites, Bedford and Kourkoulakos, easily beat Richmond 4-2.

No amount of argument or analysis can prove that the Lions will do any better than Richmond.

Unless Margarites has recovered completely from a thigh injury, Hellas' team is likely to remain the same as the one fielded last week.

In fact, on recent performances both sides are a trifle lucky to be occupying such elevated positions.

After a poor showing against J.U.S.T. Hakoah are bound to make changes. John Laurence, new full-back, impressed with the reserves and is likely to be promoted. Syd Thomas may be back as a wing-half.

Stenhouse and Villers must get better support from the wings.

Style and make-up of George Cross have altered completely in the past few weeks. Their defence is strong and resolute, with veteran Muscat still in command, but the same cannot be said of the forwards.

Campbell is not nearly as effective, and Abela appears to have lost his goal-scoring touch.

Marshall Gibb is likely to be back after injury. Hodgson may resume his familiar role at inside, with Joe Falzon taking his place in defence.

On paper this should be the best game of the round, and if both sides show a return to form it could be a rouser.

A draw is my choice.

A test for Slavia

Slavia, in a better position than they have been for years, will be severely tested by Wilhelmina.

Much will depend on whether the Port side can field their best team following their experience and injury last week.

This new-look Slavia has the talent, and the blend is coming, too.

The open pattern play of the half-backs gives plenty of scope to the inside trio. Haasz, McDonagh and McCogan, who can be real goat-hungry.

Wilhelmina are a hard side to beat — anywhere and anytime. Brouwer, Stobbe and Van Alphen are never in a benevolent mood.

With a slicker and better attack, I tip Slavia — by a very narrow margin.

Melbourne are keen

Richmond still have a few players well below top class, and are especially weak in the key position of centre-half — that's why I don't think they can beat Melbourne.

Former George Cross player Pat McKenna has stimulated a shaky defence, but he is being overworked.

and much of his technical skill is wasted.

Erasmus is finding the net frequently, but Horst Zielenski is still battling to recapture his old form.

Melbourne are climbing. To get both points against Polonia was no mean feat, but they have front-line problems, which might be eased by the arrival of new winger Jimmy Campbell.

They have built up a strong, experienced and sure-footed defence, with Elliot a dependable centre-half.

On form, Melbourne should account for Richmond, providing they subdue one player — Billy Copeland.

Croatia will be lucky

Despite Polonia's poor showing on Sunday, Croatia will have its hands full to even secure one point.

Polonia may be strengthened by the return of injured players, and Jurecki may go to his usual position of centre-forward.

Polonia, however, will have to watch big Jim Fernie, who proved again last Saturday that he is a handful for any defence.

Croatia will battle all the way, but the finesse and better balance of Polonia should take both points.

Oh, for a wee drop of MUD!

Croatia's man-of-the-year Jim Fernie has only one complaint about Victorian Soccer.

It's our hard, sun-baked grounds.

Jim is used to the soft, often muddy grounds of Scotland, and he is having trouble acclimatising himself.

Already the hard grounds have taken their toll. They were partly responsible for the groin injury that kept Jim out of the Victorian side for Sydney, and on the sidelines for Croatia for a week or so.

Big Jim Fernie (he's 5 ft 11 in, 13½ stone) came to Croatia six weeks ago from Forfar, in Scottish Second Division.

In his first four games with Croatia he netted six goals.

He is playing centre-forward for Croatia, but likes inside-forward best.

Jim left behind him in Scotland his wife, Nora, and daughter, Jacqueline (3) and son, Robert (1).

But his wife is selling their home and furniture and will soon be on her way here.

Jim, formerly a ship's draftsman, is now a draftsman with the structural division of Johns and Waygood, in South Melbourne.

Stop this hooliganism

The newspaper posters blared out the message for all to see: "Soccer mob bash, kick players."

They were advertising the sordid story of hooliganism which occurred at the Showgrounds last Saturday.

An uncontrollable crowd of spectators rushed on to the ground after the George Cross — Slavia match and started kicking players.

This is disgraceful. It is not the act of a civilised community.

We hope that this bad exhibition will be the last in Soccer this year. Only bad publicity can come from it.

Half way round the world of Soccer

Behind the vital emergency meeting of FIFA in London on Tuesday was the mission of a Victorian.

A man who, in five weeks, had flown half-way around the world for the good of Soccer.

That man is Mr Michael Weinstein, the State League chairman.

In his Kew home this week Mike told me about his trip—a combination of sight-seeing, Soccer and vital meetings with high-ranking FIFA officials.

It began on March 17 when Mike flew from Melbourne to Athens, Greece.

His first taste of Greek Soccer was Olympiakos v. Aris, and a crowd of 18,000.

Mike was amazed at the 9-ft iron bars with curved tops around the ground to protect the players and referee, and the hard gravelled surface of the ground.

Peter Barbalias, former Hellas player, was with Olympiakos, so Mike sent a message arranging a meeting with him afterwards. But Peter didn't show up.

Mike was anxious to meet him because of the detrimental statements Barbalias had made to the Press about Australian Soccer.

Impressed

From Athens Mike flew to Rome, where he met Dr Ottorino Barassi, vice-president of FIFA.

Mike was impressed with the vice-president—a big personality and a man of high standing in the Italian community.

Mike put Australia's case to the vice-president, but the doctor

He then flew on to Zurich, Switzerland, to visit FIFA headquarters.

Mike had a long and interesting discussion with Mr Rudi Court, the FIFA secretary from Luxembourg.

didn't commit himself. He said he had to get the support of his colleagues before he could make a statement.

Later Mike saw his old club (he once lived in Italy), Lazio, beat Spartak 2-1 on a Monday afternoon at the Olympic Stadium.

He sat with a crowd of 33,000. The curtain-raiser was between an under-21 Lazio side and a French team.

He described the game as thrilling and of a very high standard.

Lazio officials said they would like to visit Australia, providing FIFA lifted the ban. They presented Mike with a photograph of his old team.

And they sent their best wishes to the Italian community of Melbourne and hoped to visit here soon.

University men

The Italian Soccer administration, with its 96 employees in the head office, amazed Mike. Over half of them had university degrees.

Before Mike left, Dr Barassi handed him a copy of the Italian Year Book, which is a work of art.

"This is the standard we must aim for here," Mike said.

gettable scenes at Wembley.

"I only wish we could capture half of it here in Melbourne," he said.

Then off to Israel for another international between Atlanta and Tel Aviv.

This game was won by the Israelis 1-0.

After two weeks in the Middle East he flew on to Hong Kong for more Soccer before returning home.

Summing up, Mike said:

"Compared with Europe, we have a long way to go and a lot to learn, but this doesn't worry me.

"We have the players and the potential, but our problems are administration.

"The Federation must concentrate on training young men in administrative duties to carry on what we have done here. Otherwise, everything will be wasted.

"Our officials of the future must be of a high calibre and people of high standing. Without them we cannot achieve our aim."

Promise

Sir Stanley and Mike talked for many hours. Trans-European phone calls followed, and Sir Stanley promised the emergency meeting for May 7.

Mike's mission was complete. Now for some more Soccer.

On the following day, Saturday, the big clash between England and Scotland was at Wembley Stadium. Mike joined the 100,000 spectators to see the downfall of England 2-1.

From the Soccer point of view this was the best game he saw. Rangers' Jimmy Baxter, who played for Scotland, was the best left-half Mike has seen. "No wonder Milan offered £150,000 for him," Mike said.

He referred to the game as those "unfor-

Letters to the Editor

SIR,—Last Sunday Alex Barr said on GTV9 that George Cross should play behind locked doors. I disagree. George Cross play a very clean game, and have been doing so for the past two years. The referee was to blame for all the trouble last week.—FRANK BONNETT, 383 Barkly St, West Brunswick.

SIR,—I came from Sydney and was in Melbourne for a holiday. I went to the Showgrounds and saw George Cross play Slavia. I thought to myself, how can they improve Soccer in Victoria if they don't improve the referees?

"SYDNEYSIDER"

SIR,—I have attended a number of Soccer matches in Victoria over the past two years as a neutral spectator, and had the misfortune to do so on Saturday, May 4, at the Showgrounds, when Slavia played George Cross.

I have never witnessed a more disgraceful display of sportsmanship, and wonder what can be happening in my country when wolves of this calibre can attack defenceless players, inflicting injury through sheer animal frenzy. Reason would not be the answer with this class of follower of the sport, as it seems obvious they "no understand" our human way of life in this country.

Complete suspension for the season would make it more tolerant for sporting enthusiasts and eliminate some of the bad language used by followers in front of female supporters.

The Soccer Federation has it entirely in their hands to take the necessary steps to uphold the rapid progress that Soccer is now making, and thus draw Australians to a clean game of sport.

I would like to commend your paper on its wide coverage of Soccer in general.

F. MILLANE, 1 Portland St, W. Coburg.

'Don't marry me off,' says penalty king

From TERRY SMITH in Sydney

Our lively "Penalty King" Sotos Patrinos has done it again.

He scored from yet another penalty kick as his team, Pan-Hellenic, showed courage and fight to gain a 2-all draw with Gladesville-Ryde last Sunday.

Patrinos has become irresistible from the penalty spot.

He now has the remarkable record of scoring from eight penalty kicks in only six matches.

It would be unusual for a player to receive this many chances in a whole season.

Patrinos made a vow last July that he would never miss another penalty kick.

This followed a drastic failure in a match against Apia.

He and his team-mates missed out on win bonuses of £95 a man when Patrinos failed from the penalty spot with the score at 2-all.

"I did not sleep for a week," said Patrinos.

Patrinos is one of the "characters" of Sydney Soccer.

He works as a waiter in a small Greek club and is noted for his ability to perform the solo dance Hasapiko.

He also is partial to a glass or two of the white liquor Ouzo.

Patrinos got a surprise when he read in the official program a week ago that he was getting married after the match against Budapest-St. George.

It was a mis-print. "I don't want to get married," he sobbed.

Daring saves

Only some daring and spectacular saves by goalkeeper Ron Lord saved competition leaders Prague from their first defeat.

They gained a 3-all draw with South Coast.

State captain-coach Jim Kelly inspired South Coast in a great bid for victory in the second half.

Prague now lead the competition by one point from Apia.

The controversial Leo Baumgartner was outstanding when Apia scored an easy 4-1 victory over bottom-of-the-table Bankstown.

Last year's champions Hakoah are having a frustrating run of bad luck.

They have yet to record a win, although they have four draws to their credit.

Hakoah were beaten 5-4 by another out-of-form team, Yugal, in their latest match.

PRAGUE (R. Blitz, B. Tristram, L. Scheinflug) 3; SOUTH COAST (G. Barnett (2), J. Aquero) 3.

Let's have more of this Soccer

George Cross and the Slavia Spurs turned on one of the most attractive displays of Soccer ever seen in these parts in their game at the Showgrounds on Saturday.

Dribbling and hesitancy were OUT. Speedy move and counter-move with nothing but one-touch, quick-thinking football was IN.

Although the Spurs finally won the points with a late goal, playing honors were even and both teams deserve hearty applause for their efforts.

It is to be hoped that the Federation's fixtures committee can reserve a Sunday at Olympic Park for the return match at the end of July, so that many more thousands can enjoy the brand of Soccer that we saw at the Showgrounds last week.

A cute and heartwarming sight occurs before every George Cross game when little Martin Scicluna, the team's mascot, trots out of the players' race ahead of the Cross team.

Special request from Len Young, who is recovering from injuries received in a car crash, in Ward 2 at the Austin Hospital, relayed through Mrs Yelland and referee George Yelland: "Please thank the many people in the Soccer community for their greetings and best wishes. Their kind thoughts have cheered me up no end, and it's impossible for me to thank each one of them personally."

The rapidly improving Melbourne side reports more players on the way here from Scotland and will no doubt be breathing down the leaders' necks before this season is over.

The big crowd at Olympic Park last Sunday must have begun to appreciate why the newspaper boys have been raving about Jimmy Pearson, who started most of Melbourne's moves against Polonia from the left wing. If there had been one or two more inside forwards capable of matching Jimmy's moves, Melbourne might have won by a more impressive margin.

The same thing applied at the other end, where Mitek Jurecki provided the inspiration, and his inside forwards—plus Melbourne's sturdy defenders—provided the frustration.

No matter how many years Lolly Vella looks back, it's doubtful that he'll remember ever scoring a more delightful goal than the one he put into the net for Polonia on Sunday. Leaping high for Eddie Zientara's long shot, Lolly deflected the ball by skimming it off his skull and into the net from about 15 yards out. 'Twas a beauty.

Take any five of these seven forwards, put them in the front row, and you've got the attack for a team that will beat any side in Australia: Jimmy Pearson (Melbourne); Charlie McCorquodale, Frank McColgan and Pat McDonagh (Slavia); Mike Jurecki (Polonia); Archie Campbell (George Cross); and Jim Fernie (Croatia).

Last week we reported that TRUTH's betting board had Wilhelmina at 20/1 against the State League championship. We warned TRUTH that Wilhelmina wouldn't like that. This week that paper lengthened Wilhelmina's price to 33/1 against. Such audacity will cost TRUTH at least one subscriber!

The Hakoah Hearts failed to get into first gear against J.U.S.T. last Saturday. They had absolutely no answer for the elusive play of the mercurial Emilio Marinovic, and their own forward line never got together. And that reminds me, what has happened to Billy Cook, who transferred to the Hearts from Slavia several weeks ago? Why keep Billy in moth balls?

About 32 veterans had a run when Wilhelmina Old Boys played the State League veterans last Sunday in a 35 minutes each way game. Bill Curran, Rudi Ristic and Bill Biro kicked goals to give the S.L. veterans a 3-0 win. All who took part want more of the same and Stan Stacey, who organised the S.L. veterans, says Flinders Naval Depot is the next operation.

S. A. IS WIDE OPEN

From TOM CONNOLLY

ADELAIDE, Wednesday: The defeat of Budapest by Polonia has thrown the first division championship wide open. Budapest have crashed from first to fourth place with Croatia leading the field, having dropped only one point.

The First Division is resolving itself into two sections, with the top six teams contenders for the top four.

Budapest was well beaten by Polonia, although the margin was only 1-0. Budapest claim some excuse by having to play most of the second half with 10 men due to an injury to Balter.

Polonia dictated the play, with a sound defence and a worrying attack well led by Chapman.

Croatia overcame early strong pressure from Orange to win convincingly. This team of stars without teamwork showed that they are settling down to a more concerted combination.

Cumberland gained its first victory of the season in a rough game with Austria. This was an important win for Cumberland. A defeat would have put it out of touch with the other teams in the lower bracket.

Austria is most disappointing after its early promise. Its expensive players are not now paying dividends.

Enfield proved no match for Juventus. The Italian team were on top right from the start and, despite an injury to Jennings, they were not troubled at any stage.

Howlett showed a welcome return to form and gave a brilliant display, scoring one goal himself and providing the opportunities for Crawford and Donnelly (twice) to score.

Austria has the first all-female supporters' club in Adelaide. It runs its own affairs under the chairmanship of Mrs Denk, with Mrs Roman Kaufman as secretary.

The Disciplinary Board dealt with seven cases last week. Sentences of up to three matches were handed out, the main offence being abusive language to the referee. One player received three games suspension for striking a spectator and then refusing to leave the field when ordered off.

RESULTS: Cumberland 2, Austria 1; Croatia 3, Orange 0; Polonia 1, Budapest 0; Juventus 4, Enfield 0; Victoria 2, Lion 0.

Rangers' Valley win was a lucky one

From FRANK McIVER

MORWELL, Wed. — A strong Rangers side at home were lucky to take the two points in a thriller against Moe last Saturday.

Moe refused to give up. They were twice a goal down, but they levelled the score, and at half-time were down by the odd goal in five.

The second half was a harassing one for Rangers, who lost a player—injured in a fall.

Moe worried the home defence, and all but equalised when a cross beat the Rangers' goalie and was hooked out under the bar by a defender.

THE MIGHTY AXEMEN OF TULLAMARINE

By GEOFF DOBB

GEOFF DOBB SELECTS . . .

Armed with axes, chain-saws and block and tackle, members of the Tullamarine Sports Club have hacked their way into the mountains around Mt. Macedon to haul out timber to improve their Soccer ground.

Every weekend for months they have cut timber for posts, palings and telegraph poles.

And they have almost completed building a fence right around their ground in Tullamarine.

This is Tullamarine's first year in Federation competition — and they are second on the ladder in Second Division Reserves, with six wins and a draw.

Officials say they have their eye on State League honors within a few years — that is why they are fencing their ground.

Tullamarine ran three junior and one senior team. They have 300 members — and they haven't even started a drive for membership yet.

The club buys 20 Soccer balls at a time. In 12 months they have worn out 50 balls, which are now kicked around by the six and seven-year-olds.

Keilor Council has been a great help to this club, providing materials and machinery. The members graded the oval themselves.

MAKEDONIA are busy recruiting in the country and are also looking to the future with their 30-strong Under-12 squad. Supporters and film fans in general should look in this column for Makedonia's showing of the popular film "Miss Stone" soon.

BOX HILL gratefully acknowledge the following donations to their Bobby McLeish fund: ALEXANDER, S. C., £5; JOHN (Yarravong), £2; and TOM and SID, £1. The White Horsemen report their popular coach, Len Young, is progressing well at Austin Hospital after his relapse on April 27, when he suffered a collapsed lung after a car crash.

That Austria-South Yarra Reserves game was a thriller — 11 goals!

ROSEBUD and GEE-LONG broke the ice on Saturday. Geelong have been inspired by QUEENS-

FIRST NORTH: Coburg, Alexander, Moreland, Collingwood, Corio, Sunshine City.

FIRST SOUTH: Austria, Bayswater, Brighton, Oakleigh, Triestina, Yallourn.

SECOND NORTH: St. Albans, Fairfield, Seymour, ICI, Libertas, Bell Park.

SECOND SOUTH: Sunshine Heights, FND, Ringwood, Prahran, Park Rangers, Azzurri.

CLIFF army veteran Clem Higgins, who has kept the forwards moving. Incidentally, over £2000 of the accumulated debt from their State League days has been paid off by Geelong in the past two seasons.

HEIDELBERG have progressive plans for their ground, but lack support from the local council.

MEMO TO VSE: Following the formation of Mornington S.C., we learn the fine ground used there by Army Apprentices S.C. is being coveted by real estate interests after the recent death of the owner. A good ground should be kept for Soccer by ACTION!

Not again, Dandenong

Dandenong beat Oakleigh 4-0 in a pre-season practice in March — but they won't repeat the feat this Saturday.

Since this lesson, Oakleigh have obtained a star Polish goalie, whose loud voice carries right up the ground to direct the forwards.

This could also have the effect of un-nerving the young Dandenong side.

Fernree Gully could shock Triestina — if they can recapture their Easter form against Austria.

Two ex-State League League greats, Box Hill and Moreland, clash in a thriller at Campbell Reserve in First North.

Box Hill, third, are a rugged side and could upset the lighter Greenshirts.

After several years of team-building, St. Albans are now beginning to click under the inspiration of Mr F. Ermsrang. They may have the players to shock Bell Park.

Geelong Scottish — their motto is "Aye Ready" — look like flag contenders on current form.

Their defence is strong — but it will need to be against Libertas in Second Division North.

Ballarat and Bell Park could well be the match of the year in Second Division North. A large crowd is expected at Ballarat.

Ballarat rise to the occasion and they could surprise the leaders, Bell Park. Ballarat secretary, Jim Oliver, has brought the country side up to flag prospects.

Moorabbin, on the crest of a wave, have the forwards to beat Prahran in Second Division South.

Prahran won 6-5 last year and this match should be a thriller.

Two top teams, Brunswick and Tullamarine, clash in Second Division Reserves.

Brunswick could inflict the first defeat for Tullamarine.

The Beau Chasps is the topline band in action at SANDRINGHAM'S dance this Saturday at Sandy Memorial Hall from 7.30 p.m.

Congrats to MOORABBIN on their Centenary Cup success — and their fine display against leaders PARK RANGERS, who equalised only in the last two minutes.

FRANKSTON are looking for a good coach, and offer a good financial opportunity down the Bay.

The Australian Broadcasting Commission will be screening the entire match on the night of May 30 on ABV Channel 2 and ABEV Channel 1.

On radio, the Cup Final will be broadcast uninterrupted by ABC station 3AR and regionals, beginning at 11.30 p.m. on Saturday, May 25.

The full film of the European Cup final also will be shown, on the night of Thursday, June 6, through ABV2 and ABEV1 starting at 10.10.

Andy Kun resigns

Mr Andrew Kun has resigned as chairman of Victorian selectors and also as Victorian delegate to the Australian Soccer Federation.

He will remain as Melbourne club delegate to the State League Council.

'DAVO' MAY BE NSW CHIEF

Former Test cricketer Alan Davidson is a shock nomination for the vacant presidency of the NSW Soccer Federation.

And "Davo" is assured of strong support, although he admits to having seen only about half a dozen Soccer matches.

He has always been a very keen Rugby League follower.

HURT PLAYER "SATISFACTORY"

United player Coburg David Brown, who was injured last week and underwent an operation in Royal Melbourne Hospital, was reported to be "satisfactory" late last night.

A Cook's Tour of the Clubs

£650 — and Tommy just sits

By JIM COOK

A couple of weeks ago South Melbourne-Hellas paid George Cross £650 for Tommy Anderson.

Last Saturday Tommy sat on the sidelines as first reserve, watching his new team thrash Richmond 4-2.

Now supporters are asking: "Why pay all that money if you're not going to play him?"

Perhaps coach Manny Poulakakes will come up with the answer when he can fit Tommy into that special system they play at Hellas.

built, and a welder by trade.

● Brighton

Gordon Hay, up-and-coming inside man of Brighton's Under-18 team, whom I referred to in this column last week, turned out for the first team last Saturday

● G. Cross

The Scottish contingent with George Cross, now at a low number, will be bolstered by the arrival in the Castel Felice this Sunday of inside-forward Gerry Fitchet.

Fitchet, an engineer, is accompanied by his wife. He played for Scottish Junior side Brechin Victoria, and has a reputation as a goal-scorer.

● Richmond

Whisper is the new coach at Richmond is Rudy Van Altena, goalkeeper and former Wilhelmina star.

Rudy is a school teacher, so no doubt will have some blackboard work for the Tigers.

Incidentally, Richmond half-back Werner Bormann and his wife have a new son. All well.

● Croatia

Croatia will fly to Melbourne soon. Bobby Dougan, a wing-half who plays with crack Glasgow side Parkhead Juniors.

HIGH FLYING JUNIOR

Bill Beard, 14-year-old 'keeper of Frankston Under 18, made an amazing save in the match against Brighton on Saturday.

Bill saved a shot, ran out to the edge of the penalty box and booted the ball well downfield. The opposing full-back caught on to Bill's kick and hit a tremendous shot back into the Frankston goal area.

The young 'keeper, sensing he couldn't get back into goal quickly enough, rose like a bird to head the shot clear of danger.

● Austria

Austria, undefeated in First Division South, owe much of their success to the hard work of president Ivan Eugen, Metropolitan representative on the Victorian Soccer Federation Council.

Financial backing, which has made possible the purchase of several State League players, including Cubero and Salabassides, comes from Mr Giovanni Sabato, managing director of the Essendon Tile Co, and secretary-treasurer Luigi Cardaci, well-known Moonee Ponds identity.

● Hakoah

Architect in Hakoah's 8-0 victory in the reserves against J.U.S.T. was Syd Thomas, playing in the unusual role of a right-half.

His prompting and experience played a big part in his side's run-away victory. Don't be surprised if he is recalled for first team duty against George Cross in the same position.

● J.U.S.T.

With a dazzling display against Hakoah, Marinovic, the J.U.S.T.

inside-forward, has brought himself right back into calculations for a place in the State side.

Heinz Vollman, who replaced Madenovic (flu) against Hakoah, did sufficient in his first big game for eight months to justify his place

● Melbourne

Winger Jimmy Campbell is expected to arrive this week to strengthen and consolidate the Melbourne side.

Campbell played junior with Glasgow Ashfield before joining Scottish Second Division club Montrose.

● LIONS full-back J. Eschker has the ball on his shoulder as Wilhelmina's Hans Petersen dashes in.

SYDNEY REFS. WEAR BLACK

Sydney Soccer referees will wear black next season. They have worn white for almost 80 years.

Black is the official color for referees in all other parts of the world.

Prague club had to switch their colors from white to black three years ago because of the stubborn refusal of the Referees' Association to change from their traditional color. — Terry Smith.

World of Soccer

YUGOSLAVIA

English Cup finalists Manchester United have been asked to play in Yugoslavia to open Belgrade's new super sports stadium.

Costing £200,000, it will incorporate all field and track events, with hotel accommodation attached. It was while returning from Belgrade over five years ago that the famous Busby Babes were in the Munich plane crash.

VIETNAM

Following widespread riots at Soccer matches in Vietnam, the Government has stepped in to disband the FA, whom they accused of being unable to control the game.

The Government will hand-pick members for the new FA.

FIFA

The world ruling body in Soccer is now 117 strong — more representatives even than the United Nations.

SCOTLAND

Sixty-five-year-old Alan Morton, former Scotland and Rangers winger and the original "wee blue devil" in the 1928 Wembley Wizards side, has been seriously ill in a Glasgow hospital.

He is a director of the Rangers Football Club.
